s22

BETA (Behavioural Economics Team of the Australian Government) begins operating on 1 February
(Jason McNamara, FAS, BETA)
Led by Harvard Professor Michael Hiscox, BETA—a jointly funded unit of twelve government agencies—will provide behavioural science expertise to improve Australian government policy, programme and administrative outcomes. BETA will also look to collaborate with leading academics to improve the information base/content of policy advice.

s47C

s47C

s22