Dear [REDACTED] s 22

I just saw your text. Sorry I was unable to deal with this last night but I failed to notice it coming in. See advice below.

Another email to follow.

Hi

I just received verbal advice that the NTEU are disseminating information to their members (and others?) about the launch, including advice on the location being Building NA.

Regards

Subject: Function at Deakin University - Waurm Ponds, Geelong, Vic - 21 May 2014
~~[SEC=PROTECTED, DLM=Sensitive]~~

~~PROTECTED, Sensitive~~

CADP,

As you are aware the PM is due to attend a function at Deakin University on 21 May 2014. Also attending is the Victorian Premier, the Federal Minister for Education (Christopher Pyne) and the Member for Corangamite, the Hon Sarah Henderson.

It is noted that the National Union of Students is coordinating a National Day of Action also on 21 May 2014. A significant protest possible (2-5,000 protestors) is planned for Melbourne CBD based on previous similar protests. At this time no protest is planned for Deakin University, Waurm Ponds, however the attendance by the Prime Minister was advised to all guests as part of the invitation. Deakin University Media staff have advised that they had today been contacted by a reporter at the Age asking about increased security plans for the visit by the Prime Minister. It is likely that this request will result in media reporting on 20 May further publicising the Prime Ministers attendance.

Current Planning arrangements:

~~s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d)~~ the university campus today 19 May 2014 with PMPT, PMO, University staff, Premier's Dept, Vic Police and Member for Corangamite staff.

~~s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d)~~

It is intended that the PM will still attend a private tour of the facility prior to the official opening.

~~s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d)~~

~~known as "na" building, houses research elements of the CSIRO and engineering elements of the University campus. The event is likely to attract approximately 350 invited guests and national media.~~

~~s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d)~~

Intended Program:

It is currently intended that the PM arrive at the Carbon Nexus facility at Deakin University at approximately 0945hrs for a private tour. Approximately 1005hrs he will then move to building "na" to await the commencement of the official opening ceremony due to commence at 1030hrs. Following the ceremony he will undertake a press conference in the same venue. It is anticipated that he will depart the venue at 1115hrs for other events in the Geelong area.

The additional resources are currently to be deployed at the university only to cover the above program. Full program details have been provided to s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d) for reference.

Outcomes:

s 37(2)(b) and s 47E(d)
