Critical incident investigation launched following death of two people - Parramatta

Friday, 02 October 2015 06:39:49 PM

A critical incident investigation has been launched following the death of two people at Parramatta.

The incident occurred outside the NSW Police headquarters building on Charles Street about 4.30pm today (Friday 2 October 2015), after a number of shots were fired.

It appears an officer has discharged his weapon, responding to a report that a person had been shot.

Two people have died at the scene.

A crime scene has been established.

A critical incident team will now investigate all circumstances surrounding the incident.

Police are yet to establish the identity of the deceased.
