5. The establishment of an industry-led body to oversee journalistic standards for news and commentary across all platforms in the media and communications sector. This is contrary to the recommendation of the Independent Inquiry into the Media and Media Regulation (the Inquiry) that a statutory regulator be established for this purpose.
 - a. The Report considers that an industry based, self-regulatory body would be more likely to produce immediate results and provide a better long-term solution for news standards. The Report considers that a statutory regulator (such as that proposed by the Inquiry) should only be established as a last resort.
