MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER

100 WOMEN OF INFLUENCE AWARDS

The 100 Women of Influence Awards celebrate the immense contribution women make to all facets of Australian life.

I congratulate the award recipients on their achievements.

In every field of endeavour, the women honoured by these Awards have excelled and inspired others. They have all made a significant contribution to the life of our country.

I am committed to leading a Government that supports women as they make their own choices about how they participate in Australian society and the economy.

I congratulate the Australian Financial Review and the Westpac Group on the 100 Women of Influence Awards.

I send my warmest wishes for the gala event and congratulate all award recipients.

Dear Mr Clarke

I am pleased to formally welcome you to the Australian Business 20 (B20) Leadership Group. The Group, chaired by Mr Richard Goyder AO, is leading arrangements for the international business community's engagement with the G20 for Australia's host year of 2014.

Hosting the B20 represents an important opportunity for Australian business to influence international debate on economic policy. G20 leaders will look to the B20 for pragmatic, action-oriented suggestions on issues such as trade, investment and job creation.

The G20's focus under Australia's presidency will be squarely on growth and jobs. We want to unlock new sources of growth by empowering the private sector. A close dialogue with business will be central in realising these ambitions.

I look forward to discussions with the Leadership Group as we move towards Australia's G20 presidency and the summit in Brisbane in November 2014, and hope to see you at a future meeting of the B20 Leadership Group.

I have sent a copy of this letter to Mr Goyder, who will be in touch with you shortly about practical arrangements for your participation in the Leadership Group. I attach for your information a list of the other members of the Group.

Yours sincerely
