State of play

PM&C's role and functions

PM&C advises and supports you, the Cabinet, portfolio ministers, assistant ministers and the government and ensures government decisions are implemented. PM&C coordinates cross-portfolio efforts to advance Australia's interests, prosperity and success. The Department develops the capabilities of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to improve their living standards and wellbeing.

Four operational groups carry out the Department's role, delivering strategic priorities through a range of policy and program activities under the leadership of Dr Martin Parkinson AC PSM.

Domestic Policy Group

Deputy Secretary, Economic and G20 Sherpa – Dr David Gruen s 22(1)(b)(ii)

Deputy Secretary, Social Policy – Lin Hatfield Dodds s 22(1)(b)(ii)

Deputy Secretary, Industry and Jobs – Mr Barry Sterland s 22(1)(b)(ii)

Deputy Secretary, APS Review Taskforce – Mr David Williamson s 22(1)(b)(ii)

The Domestic Policy Group develops economic, environmental and social policies. It coordinates whole-of-government regulatory reform and supports government priorities around gender and women. The group coordinates COAG arrangements and provides advice and support for the Budget process. Whole-of-government service delivery policy (administered by the Digital Transformation Agency), public data policy in developing and prosecuting Australia's contributions to the G20 is coordinated by this group.

National Security and International Policy Group

Deputy Secretary, National Security – Mr Allan McKinnon s 22(1)(b)(ii)

The National Security and International Policy Group provides advice on Australia's foreign policy, trade and aid interests. This includes your engagement with foreign counterparts and business leaders, international commemorative events, treaty matters, defence and intelligence, non-proliferation, counter-terrorism, law enforcement, information sharing, intelligence policy, cyber policy, border security and crisis management. This group also coordinates the foreign affairs, trade and national security aspects of the Budget.

Governance Group

Deputy Secretary, Governance – Ms Stephanie Foster s 22(1)(b)(ii)

The Governance Group provides advice on legal policy, parliamentary and government matters and honours, symbols and territories policy. In addition, it provides support services to you, the Cabinet, Cabinet committees and the Department's portfolio ministers and assistant ministers. The group delivers the Department's enabling and support functions and oversees the implementation and ongoing delivery of government programs, policies and initiatives. It also supports the Guest of Government program for visits by foreign Heads of State and Heads of Government, as well as coordinating logistics and protocol support for your program of international travel and for other State occasions (eg State Funerals).

Indigenous Affairs Group

Associate Secretary, Indigenous Affairs – Mr Andrew Tongue s 22(1)(b)(ii)
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous Affairs – Professor Ian Anderson s 22(1)(b)(ii)

The Indigenous Affairs Group is responsible for most Commonwealth Indigenous-specific policy and programs. The group works with the Australian Government and state and territory governments, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and organisations and peak bodies to achieve government priorities of getting adults into jobs, getting children into school and making communities safer. The group includes the Regional Network that partners with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and communities and other stakeholders to develop and implement tailored local solutions. The Regional Network has more than 550 staff in over 80 locations across the country. These staff routinely visit more than 380 communities.

Where to Next

The department stands ready to support your transition to the role of Prime Minister. We would welcome an early opportunity to interact with you and ensure we are focussing on your policy priorities.
