Dear Ben

The ANAO is considering publishing an Insights Lessons product on 'Fraud and Corruption Control Arrangements' in the first half of 2025-26. For more information about our Insights range, please see: Insights | Australian National Audit Office \(ANAO\). 'Fraud and Corruption Control Arrangements' would be targeted at Australian Government officials responsible for fraud and corruption control arrangements, and those engaged in program and policy delivery.

I was hoping to meet with you to discuss any thoughts you might have on an Insights Lessons product on this topic, including:

- major themes you are seeing across the sector that could be identified in the product;
- specific lessons that you think could be communicated to entities to help them better handle fraud and corruption matters;

- any projects underway and/or resources set for release soon that we should be aware of; and
- any other considerations we should take into account in developing this product.

I anticipate that should the product proceed, we would share a draft with you prior to its publication.

Will you be available for a half-hour virtual meeting within the next two weeks? My colleague s 22 will contact you to arrange a time and date.

If you will be unavailable during this period, we welcome your suggestions on anyone else within your team who we may contact.

Regards
Christine
